AH Sprinters Finish 2-3

By Chris Bell

Dotson Wilson and Mike Shavens, Albany High students, did the next best thing to finishing 1st at the recent Examiner All-America Games at the Cow Palace.

After reaching the finals in the 100 yard dash the week before, out of a field of nearly 100, Dotson, Mike and four others ran before a capacity crowd, coming in 2-3. Although the two were dissatisfied in only coming in 2-3, the sports writer from a neighboring paper commented they were the only local "bright lights" in a meet which featured Kip Keino, Tom Von Ruden in the mile, and Lee Evans coming from behind to beat Marty McReady in the 600.

All three top times in the High School 60 were 6.3 (the world's record is 5.9). Albany High was the only school finishing so well in one event.

Sherman Elected

Lewis F. Sherman has been elected Berkeley-Albany Presiding Judge for 1972.

Judge Sherman was appointed to the Berkeley Bench just a year ago and in that time has served all departments of the four-judge court.

Prior to his appointment, he served as a State Senator from 1966 to 1971.

Judge Sherman succeeds Judge Mario H. Barsotti as Presiding Judge of the court and looks ahead to a year of significant progress in judicial administration.

Blind Center Honors Lion

Robert Humbert, staff member of the Oakland Lions' Blind Center, was the special guest speaker at a recent Albany Lions Club meeting, and told the local group of the Center's recently established program to evaluate, train, and find remunerative, useful employment for blind and visually handicapped persons.

Albany Lions were proud to learn that their member, John McDonald, of McDonald's Hamburgers, was the first person to provide employment to one of the trainees from the Lions Blind Center's new program. He was presented with a certificate of appreciation from the Center.

The Albany Lions urge all those needing employees to communicate with a local club member, or with the Lions Blind Center in Oakland. They will analyze the operation to determine if there is a place for a blind or visually handicapped person.

MOD Offers Free Booklet

"Why get the facts about a blood disease like sickle cell anemia?"

That's the opening sentence of a booklet just released by the National Foundation-March of Dimes, now available free from the Alameda County Chapter by writing or calling for a copy.

The simple answer to the question is that the reason for knowing about sickle cell anemia is that it can strike more than 2½ million people, now living in the United States—and, that of that number, nearly half have never heard of the disease.

In eight pages of well-written and diagrammed information, the disease is defined and avenues of action pointed out.

To receive a copy of "Questions and Answers About Sickle Cell Anemia," just write Alameda County Chapter, March of Dimes, 466 Chetwood Street, Oakland 94610 — or call 836-2267.

Another benefit provided by your contributions to the National Foundation-March of Dimes, the largest national source of private support for research, medical service and health education aimed at prevention of birth defects.

School Costs Underestimated

The Albany Board of Education called a special meeting last night "to review the increased cost of remodeling the ground floor at Albany High School," for the relocation of primary classes in the fall, as called for in Plan II which was approved last year.

Originally $8,000 to $10,000 was estimated as the probable cost of remodeling, but after a careful study by the administration and the school architect, it was estimated that a more realistic cost may be between $50,000 and $60,000.

All interested citizens were urged to attend the meeting, which was held in the Cornell School cafeteria.

Albany High School music director, Ernest Douglas will conduct.

Forty-two of the ninety-member Young People's Symphony are students at Albany and Berkeley High School. The remainder are drawn from throughout Alameda and Contra Costa counties.

Think Fish On Friday

"Think Fish" could be the byword of the Albany High Band Boosters these days, with the group's one fund-raising event just a few short days away. On Friday, Feb. 4, from 5:30 to 7 p.m. at the Cornell School cafeteria, the Band Boosters will be having their eighth annual Fish Fry.

Already becoming an institution, this popular community affair was initiated just eight years ago by parents of members of Albany's band and orchestra to help supplement the budget of the music department. It was so well attended that first year that the Boosters were able to purchase uniforms for the 80-member band. As the years went by, other needs arose and so the Fish Frys continued. Thus they have been able to purchase such items as dinner jackets for the boys of the orchestra, a sousaphone, kettle drums, and, most recently, a xylophone and steel guitar.

This year the Band Boosters hope to provide enough funds to help send members of the orchestra and band to the Cazadero Music Camp, a weekend outing planned for the spring which, according to Ernest Douglas, the band and orchestra's Music Director, will be both educational and recreational.

Fish Fry Chairmen Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rosano feel that with all the help volunteered by interested members of the community and donations from local merchants, this year's Fish Fry should be even better than ever. The menu, so well received in the past, remains the same: succulent fresh red snapper fillets, French fries, cole-slaw, French bread, and home-made cake with coffee, tea or milk. For those who prefer to eat elsewhere, there will be a take-out window. Entertainment will be again provided by the school's dance band. Tickets may be purchased in advance from any of the students in the band, orchestra, or instrumental classes, or, on the night of the Fish Fry, at the door. Those who have attended the Fish Frys in the past will notice that the price has been raised from $1 to $1.25 to meet the rising cost of the fish. Even at $1.25, the Albany High Band Boosters Fish Fry still appears to be the biggest bargain in town.

Sign-Up For Little League

Sign-up Night for Albany Little League, will be held Tuesday, Feb. 15 and Thursday, Feb. 17, from 7 to 9 p.m. at Cornell School cafeteria.

Ken Chamness, player agent for the American and National Leagues, and Rod Haney, player agent for the Senior Division, wish to point out to potential players that the sign-up nights are both being held in the same week instead of in separate weeks as in the past.

Boys between the ages of eight and 16 years, and who reside in Albany, are eligible to play Little League baseball. Big League sign-ups will be held later in the season.

Further information is available by phoning Chamness at 526-1603, or Haney, 525-6383.

The selection by individual school faculty committees is the first step in what will ultimately result in cash awards of $1,000 to 20 of Northern California's finest high school seniors.

In all, 1972 will see B of A awarding 9,000 certificates, 2,600 plaques, and over $210,000 in cash, to seniors throughout the state, according to Art Lodato, vice president and manager of the bank's Richmond branch, and coordinator for the local competition.

"Plaque award winners from each school have the opportunity to advance to zone competition in Berkeley on March 22," Lodato pointed out.

"Students will be judged on the basis of scholastic achievement, extracurricular activities, and interviews before a panel of educators and civic leaders."

"The top student in each of four fields—fine arts, liberal arts, science and mathematics, and vocational arts—will then advance to the final event, which will take place on April 27 in Oakland. Finalists will compete for cash awards of $250, $500, $750 and $1,000 in each study field."

Purpose of the program is "to recognize and honor outstanding high school seniors whose scholastic attainment, sense of responsibility and evidence of leadership give most promise of future success and service to society."

An Organic Gardener Says - Piezzi-Cacioppo

By J. J. Skilling

Planting seed into peat moss pots is a good way to obtain select plants and have an early start for the season. January is a good time of the year to plant tomato seeds in 4 inch pots and to ready your soil area for expectant seedlings. It is wise to plant 3 times as many seeds as you want plants. Potting soil should be damp but not wet. I suggest 2 parts garden soil, 1 part sand and 1 part peat moss or screened leaves. To fertilize, for each quart of the above soil mixture, mix in 3 level tablespoons of ashes of wood and 2 level teaspoons of bone meal. Do not use clayey soil in a container mix. After planting, put the pots into 65 to 70 degree temperature to germinate.

Styrofoam plastic cups purchased in a grocery store provide an excellent smaller container and are far less expensive than peat pots. These cups can be used for a very early small fruited variety of tomato. The seedlings can easily be taken out of the styrofoam pots and planted into the ground when the ground temperature becomes warm.

Unless you have a sunny location where your tomato plants are in the sun from sunrise to sunset, it is best to use one of the following "fast growing" varieties. Planting Burgess, "Early Salad Hybrid" or Parks, "Extra Early Hybrid" and you can expect to harvest fruit during the summer months. "Pearson's Improved" is a slow growing variety for this area and the fruit will usually not ripen until late October or November.

As the seedlings grow to 6 to 10 inches and before they become pot bound, set the plant into an earth trench. In a hot location, the trench should be about 4 to 6 inches deep and run in a north and south direction. Lay the plant in the trench with the roots to the north so they will be protected from the sun.

While the plants are growing, careful pruning is very important. If you do not cut out the excess growth, a tomato plant will go to suckers. These suckers sap the energy of the plants. If the plants are shaded for part of the day, the growth and development through fruiting will take a longer period of time.

Largest fruiting varieties are the hybridized varieties such as "Super Colossal Red Hybrid." Each of these fruits may weigh as much as 2½ pounds.

Every organic gardener should have a compost heap in a container that is located in a shady area of the yard. Use a piece of ½ inch mesh hardware cloth, 3 feet wide and 12 feet long. Tie the ends of the screen together by overlapping about 1½ inches and fastening with 4 plant ties. Set the screen on edge and fill with gardening cuttings and other organic material. The compost heap should be watered about twice a week and turned once a week to keep the correct balance of moisture, microbe action and air. Add as much greenery to the heap as your yard will provide. The greenery provides the nitrogen needed for the decomposition. Perhaps a neighbor's hedge clippings and grass cuttings could be made available to you.

Plants that have become pot-bound, such as sturdy geraniums, will dry out too fast for normal plant growth because roots have filled valuable water space. If you can not transplant the plants into larger containers, gently remove the plant and soil, shave the root ball and replant into the same container. It is wise to use fresh soil when replanting.

A delicious eating pea and easy to grow in this area is the "Mellin Sugar," a trellis growing plant. These peas may be cooked in the pod or shelled, as you prefer. The birds love to eat the seedlings so protect the tiny new plants with screens so they can survive.

DRIVE EASY

If you speed, you do more than run the risk of a traffic ticket. You also add to air pollution. The faster you go the more fuel you burn and the more pollution you create.

Jack rabbit starts or driving with your foot riding the brake pedal also consumes more fuel and creates additional pollution.

Rap Session Invitation

A drop-in open house for Berkeley and Albany residents who have questions and concerns about raising their children and living within a family now is being held every Wednesday evening, Justin Simon, M.D., director of the Herrick-Berkeley Community Mental Health Center, announced today.

The informal "rap" sessions on Wednesdays are held from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. at the center's youth and children's services located at 2515 Milvia St., Berkeley.

Parents, families and interested adults—involved with youth in their work or in their families—are urged to participate in this new mental health activity offered to the Berkeley and Albany communities, Dr. Simon said, adding that no fee is charged and no appointment is necessary.

Robert Shaw, M.D., director of the youth and children's services, said that the "staff is convinced that many people need an opportunity to 'check out' a little problem before it becomes big and the staff feels it's usual today for parents and children to face some difficulties in living together."

He explained that people who are dropping in on Wednesday evenings are finding it helpful to share ideas, feelings, and questions. "In an informal atmosphere they're able to talk with both the staff and one another."

Several staff members are

Tax Booklet Now Available

A booklet giving information on how to fill out Federal tax returns will go on sale beginning this month at 15,000 post offices across the country, including Berkeley, the Postal Service announced today.

"Your Federal Income Tax" was written by the Internal Revenue Service and contains many examples illustrating how the tax law applies to actual situations. A special feature of the booklet is a sample, fill-in return, Form 1040, keyed to pages where explanations can be found for each entry on the return.

The 160-page booklet costs 75 cents a copy. The Postal Service cooperated with the Internal Revenue Service in making the booklets available as a convenience to postal customers and taxpayers. It will be found in first and second class post offices.

Another popular IRS publication, "Tax Guide for Small Business," will also be available at a limited number of first-class stations at 75 cents a copy.

Jaywalking

An important safety rule is too often ignored by pedestrians who illegally cross streets between intersections, says the California State Automobile Association. This practice, commonly known as "jay-walking," is not only unlawful, but extremely dangerous as well.

The CSAA urges all pedestrians to cross only at intersections or marked crosswalks. In cases where jaywalking is the only means of crossing, pedestrians should always yield the right-of-way to all vehicles.

Crosswalks, however, are no absolute guarantee of safety. Even though motorists are required to stop for pedestrians in crosswalks, pedestrians should not develop a false sense of security, but instead be alert to traffic dangers at all times.

Posters illustrating the theme, "Cross Only at Corners," have been distributed throughout Northern and Central California and Nevada by the CSAA.

Come Join The Chorus

Suburban-Aires Chapter, Sweet Adelines, Inc., a women's barbershop harmony chorus, has openings for 2nd soprano and alto voices. No special training is needed, but the ability to carry a tune and the strong desire to participate are requisites.

The group meets in the Choral Room at Albany High School, 603 Key Route Blvd., every Monday evening, from 7:15 to 10:15. The 30-member chorus performs frequently, to the delight of local clubs, hospitals and other community organizations. Forthcoming appearances will include one for the Albany Chapter of the Eastern Star, on Friday, Feb. 18, and before the Parents Club of Valley View School in Richmond in March.

Plans are in full swing for the organization's Annual Show, to be held at 8 p.m., Saturday, Mar. 4, at Portola Jr. High School in El Cerrito. The accent will be on comedy, with fine guest quartets, both men and women, as well as the popular chapter quartets the "Footnotes" and the "Blue Plate Specials."

An "Afterglow" will be held following the show at St. John's Hall, where the audience will have the opportunity of meeting the cast in an informal party atmosphere.

Interested women are urged to visit the Chapter meeting any Monday evening, to discover the thrill of "ringing a chord," barbershop style. For additional information call Marion Caruso, director, at 222-2480.

Sympathetic Volunteers

Appealing for volunteers to help in recreational programs in Berkeley-Albany convalescent hospitals, Miss Constance Ardley, chairman of Red Cross Activity Volunteers, has announced a training course for new volunteers to start Tuesday, Feb. 1.

Cut off from normal social contacts and meaningful activities, many elderly convalescent hospital patients "drop out" from real living before their time, Miss Ardley noted. Boredom, depression and sheer loneliness often erode both their mental and physical capacities and even the desire to live, she explained.

Volunteers need no special qualifications other than a sympathy with older people and the desire and time to help.

Phone Co. Improvements

Pacific Telephone will spend some $155 million on construction in the Bay Area this year, according to John H. Dills, vice president and general manager, with projects in Berkeley, Albany and the rest of the East Bay totaling more than $46 million.

The proposed 1972 construction program is about $77 million more than carried out in 1971, and is the largest amount ever for the Company or any other utility in the state in a single year.

In the Bay Area, more than half the construction dollars will be spent for central office equipment and related cables and conduits to accommodate growth and modernization. For telephone users, the benefits will be in the form of better service.

More than $290,000 will be spent in Albany this year for service improvements. New trunk equipment is being installed to work with the Traffic Service Position System to further improve operator-handled calls.

More than $12 million is being spent in Berkeley for construction of additional central office switching equipment, to care for the growth of customer facilities, and building alterations to accommodate new operator positions for the Traffic Service Position System to also improve operator-handled calls in this area.

More than $4.4 million will be spent during 1972 for new circuits linking Bay Area central offices, including those offices with customers in the East Bay. Included in the massive improvement program are new trunk cables, conduit and cable relocations and conversions to underground cable facilities.

Federal Grant Will Aid Updating of AC Transit

A federal grant will clear the way for an AC Transit improvement program, which will give East Bay bus riders top quality transportation for years to come.

The $7,670,000 grant from the U.S. Dept. of Transportation's Urban Mass Transportation Administration will help provide for 215 new buses, as well as improved facilities ranging from shelters and bus benches to garage structures.

Most of the expenditures will be spent on new buses. An existing grant, plus money from the new grant, will permit the purchase of 100 new diesel coaches this year. The District also estimates that within the next three years, buses with gas turbine engines will be available.

With the purchase of the new buses, the transit property expects to retire the last of the older buses remaining from the days of the old Key System Transit Lines. Over a 10-year period, the District expects to buy approximately 600 new buses, many of them of a new design.

The 100 buses to be purchased this year will include 60 51-passenger coaches, 25 45-passenger

Income Tax Help Offered

Taxpayers may obtain free assistance in preparing Federal Income Tax Returns, by telephoning or visiting their local Internal Revenue Service office.

Albany-Berkeley residents' local office is in the Berkeley Post Office Building, 2020 Milvia St.; phone 653-9470. The office is open daily, Monday through Friday, from 8:15 a.m. to 12:15 p.m.

Mr. R. F. Harless, District Director of the Internal Revenue Service for Northern California, said that each year millions of taxpayers are assisted in the preparation of tax returns. Last year over 1.35 million tax inquiries were answered for taxpayers in Northern California.

Mr. Harless stated that, to assist taxpayers, trained and experienced Internal Revenue Service personnel are available in each office to give help. He stressed that the assistance provided will generally be answers to questions or help in preparing only those sections of the return with which the taxpayer is having difficulty. However, if a taxpayer is unable to prepare his return due to physical or language handicaps, IRS employees will prepare it for him.

Studies over the past several years show that more than 70 percent of all tax problems can be answered by telephone. In order to save taxpayers time and travel, the IRS urges them to call their local offices.

Mr. Harless pointed out it is the duty and responsibility of each taxpayer to file a complete and correct income tax return.

Food Stamp Law To Change

Food Stamp recipients will be required to register for work with the State Dept. of Human Resources Development, effective February 1, according to new regulations issued by the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture.

Norman Blacher, a deputy director of HRD, who heads the Job Training Development and Placement Division, said that most able-bodied persons between the ages of 18 and 65 will be required to register.

In addition, under the new regulations, persons applying for or receiving USDA food stamps must also report for an interview with HRD upon reasonable request; report to an employer to whom he or she has been referred, and must accept a bona fide offer of suitable employment.

Exceptions to these new regulations include: mothers or other members of a household, who have responsibility for the care of dependent children under 18, or of incapacitated adults; students enrolled at least half-time in any school or training program recognized by any federal, state or local governmental agency, and persons already working at least 30 hours a week.

To administer the new law, HRD will work closely with the Department of Social Welfare, which is the agency that determines eligibility for food stamps.

Regardless of any assistance he may receive from the government or elsewhere, the ultimate responsibility for his return rests with the taxpayer.

Food Tax Law Explanation

The State Board of Equalization is attempting to explain the key provisions of Assembly Bill 2109, signed into law last month by Governor Ronald Reagan. The bill, which places a sales tax on hot prepared take-out food products, and removes the sales tax from candy and chewing gum, became effective Jan. 1.

According to the Board's research division, income from the sales of hot prepared take-out food products will be approximately $560 million in 1972 and will produce approximately $28 million in sales tax.

Candy, confections and non-medicated chewing gum, which would have brought in $22 million in sales tax revenue this year, are no longer taxed under the new law. This also excludes chocolate coated foods, breath mints and lozenges. Items such as cough drops, antacid mints, medicated lozenges and medicated chewing gum are not considered candy, and will remain subject to a sales tax.

Hot prepared food products are now subject to sales tax, as are all meals, whether consumed on the premises, or sold on a "to go" or "take-out" basis. "Hot prepared food products" are defined, under the new law, as those items prepared for sale in a heated condition, such as hot meals, sandwiches, specialty dishes, pizza, popcorn and nuts, bouillon, consomme and soup.

Other hot beverages, such as coffee, and hot bakery goods, are exempt from tax when sold for a separate price on a "to go" or "take-out" basis, unless sold where an admission is charged or at a drive-in restaurant.

The mere heating of a food product constitutes the preparation of a hot prepared food product, and includes the grilling of a sandwich, dipping a sandwich bun in gravy, heating popcorn or nuts by infrared lights, or heating food in a steam table.

If hot prepared food is sold for a single established price, in combination with cold food (i.e.: a hot entree combined with cold salad, roll and dessert), the tax will apply to the entire price posted on the menu, or as otherwise advertised.

The Board noted, in summary, some of the specific sales areas affected by the new legislation. They include:

Drive-ins: Sales of hot prepared food products will be subject to sales tax whether or not sold in bulk quantities.

Restaurants and Coffee Shops: Sales of hot prepared food products will be subject to sales tax whether consumed on or off the premises (except for coffee or bakery products sold for a separate price).

School Cafeterias and Snack Bars: Tax applies to sales of all hot prepared food products to non-students, regardless of where the food products are consumed.

Subject also to tax now are the sales of heated food items at caterers, department and variety stores (such as sales of hot popcorn and nuts), and grocery store sales of such heated items as pizzas, barbecued chicken, spare ribs, popcorn, nuts and similar hot food products.

Also included will be the total gross receipts from the sale of hot prepared food products dispensed through a vending machine for more than 15 cents per item. However, vending machine items such as hot bakery items, hot coffee and other hot beverages will be exempt from tax, when sold for a separate price at more than 15 cents, unless sold within a place where admission is charged or where eating facilities such as tables and chairs are provided.

Candy stores, selling candy exclusively, will not be required to hold a sales tax seller's permit, unless they also sell hot confectionery, such as caramel corn, etc.

Deadly Winter Weather Problem

"Fog, the deadliest of all the winter weather problems faced by drivers, is a major contributor to one of the most common of bad weather accidents, the rear end collision," California Highway Patrol Commissioner Harold W. Sullivan said today. "But, there is something drivers can do to cut down the possibility of being involved in this kind of accident.

Safe Boating Course Offered

Safe boating is no accident. Today's boatman must, in his spare time, learn the complexities of small boat handling that have been developed over the centuries. Professional seamen know that one of the hazards of inland navigation is the novice mariner. With boating becoming a family affair, the operator must learn his legal and moral responsibilities. He must know his abilities and the seaworthiness and limitations of his craft. Only after mastering these, along with the use of common sense afloat, can he enjoy boating with pleasure and safety.

East Bay Flotilla No. 21 of the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary is offering a free 10-lesson course in Basic Seamanship, at the Metropolitan Yacht Club in Jack London Square. The classes will cover the basic principles of maneuvering, marlinpike, charts, compass, rules of the road, legal responsibilities, aids to navigation, etc. The course will begin Wednesday, Jan. 26, at 7:30 p.m. Boaters interested in improving their knowledge are welcome to attend.

The U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary is a non-profit volunteer, civilian organization dedicated to promoting safe boating. Members of the Auxiliary participate in public service programs such as Courtesy Examinations, Public Education, Radio Communications, and Official Search and Rescue Patrols working directly with the Coast Guard. They are boaters interested in disseminating safe boating information to help keep boating a pleasurable and safe recreation. For more information please call 531-5148.

Local Volunteers Visit Institute

Birth defects, progress in their elimination, and the education of the professional and lay public, were the topics discussed during the tour of the Salk Institute of Biological Research at La Jolla, earlier this month, and attended by local March of Dimes volunteers from Albany, including Mrs. Lorin Baum and Mrs. Lee Seidel, Mothers' March chairmen, and Harold Van Coops, Albany Deputy Health Officer, and Albany MOD campaign chairman.

Dr. Jonas Salk, discoverer of the Salk polio vaccine, welcomed more than 300 March of Dimes workers from all over California to the Center, where eminent researchers are seeking to unravel the mysteries of formerly hopelessly incurable diseases.

Prominent among these diseases are birth defects causing phenylketonuria (PKU), Down's Syndrome (commonly known as mongolism), sickle cell anemia, cancer, congenital deafness, and others, rare but formerly predictable and awful in their effects.

Genetic research, hormone chemistry and special techniques developed at this other centers throughout the United States, affiliated with other centers throughout the United States, were discussed by researchers during the tour of the Center. The assembled volunteers urged to spread the word of work being done at these centers... as it is just as important to get the results of research to the people, as it is to solicit money for the support of this through the March of Dimes raising campaign.

Clothes dryer statistics for women whose husbands aren't swayed by tears.

1. Tell him a dryer would save you the 160 hours a year you spend hanging out the wash.
2. That it would take the lifting and lugging of roughly two tons of wet wash off your hands.
3. That it would cut out 40 miles of extra steps to and from the clothesline.
4. That the 10,000 clothespins you pin and unpin every year would make a great bonfire.
5. That you could dry clothes 365 days a year, with no more rain checks on T-shirts and socks.
6. That permanent-press clothes and synthetic double-knit fabrics would come out looking better—without ironing.
